

White Cliffs of Dover

All:        There'll be bluebirds over the white cliffs of Dover
              Tomorrow, just you wait and see
              There'll be love and laughter, and peace ever after Tomorrow, when the world is free.

Men:        The shepherd will tend his sheep, the valleys will bloom again
              And Jimmy will go to sleep in his own little room again

Women:    There'll be bluebirds over the white cliffs of Dover
              Tomorrow, just you wait and see.

<piano verse>

All:        The shepherd will tend his sheep, the valleys will bloom again
              And Jimmy will go to sleep in his own little room again
              There'll be bluebirds over the white cliffs of Dover
              Tomorrow, just you wait and see.

All:        Tomorrow, when — the — world — is — free.
